PARENT-CHILD ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (PCAP)
University of Washington Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

Script for program staff (clinical supervisors and case managers) contacting family members, friends, and other parties in order to locate participating mothers for research exit interview:

"Hello my name is _____and I am a (clinical supervisor / case manager) with a research study. (Subject's first and last name) was taking part in our study some time ago. I am trying to find (Subject's first name) now for an interview. (Subject's first name) gave me your name as a contact, and gave me permission to ask you how we can get back in touch. Can you please tell me how I might get in touch?"

If the family member, friend, or other party refuses to provide information:

"I understand. If you are in touch with (Subject's first name), could you please pass along my name and phone number, and ask (Subject's first name) to call me?"

If the party still refuses:

"I understand. Thank you for your time."
